CONSIDERING GRAD SCHOOL?

We have good news for you – there are many graduate programs and scholarship opportunities specifically for volunteer alumni.

Our AMAs leave their year of service with practical work experience, language skill acquisition, cultural immersion, and a new shared sense of mission! Future employers are often impressed with AMAs organizational skills and flexibility in their new workplace. Personally, AMAs have experienced a rich prayer and community life, gaining an increased awareness of issues facing the poor, helping to build strong, sustainable communities, but best all they have gained friends for life!

AMA ALUM? STAY CONNECTED THROUGH CVN!

Staying Connected – is a quarterly newsletter and resource for former volunteers. This resource will help former volunteers find inspiration, direction, and opportunities for networking and story-sharing.

Check out the alumni registration page on the CVN website, where you can sign up for Staying Connected, and CVN's weekly Job Bank, and other resources:
